".....One day he rolled up the carpet and found a trapdoor leading into a cellar. Imagine his surprise to find a treasure trove of framed Australian Modernist paintings down there – John Perceval's, Arthur Boyd's, Joy Hester's, Albert Tucker's and Danila Vassilieff's. No doubt it was an electric experience to be literally hovering over the work of Australia's early avant-garde painters"

Kareen Anchen

"A painting cannot relay emotion if no emotion is felt during the work. I believe that the real effect and feeling aroused by a subject can only be understood and communicated when the artist relates directly to the subject matter."
